

Jeff Bird – Specialist in Senior Living

Jeff Bird began his professional corporate career in 1984, then moved into senior living in 2003 with roles including executive director, geriatric care consultant and comptroller. Jeff is currently a Senior Living Advisor with Elder Care Solutions, Inc., a consulting group specializing in navigating financial and logistical long-term care solutions. He has experience in Senior Living & Care Operations, Arbitration & Mediation Tribunal Administration, IT Project Management, Organizational Development and Regulatory Compliance Oversight. At the Senior University of Greater Atlanta, he taught the course Aging in Place and the Senior Care Continuum.

His education includes a B.B.A. in Management, an M.S. in Organizational Development and studied theology at Reformed Theological Seminary. He's also a Certified Aging Services Professional and a Certified At-Risk Adult Crimes Tactics Specialist from the Georgia Department of Human Services.

Jeff serves on the Speaker's Bureau for the Alzheimer's Association; a former board member at King's Bridge Retirement Community; Past Chair - Georgia Institute on Aging; Past board member - Center for Positive Aging. He's a recipient of two Leading Age Georgia leadership awards, including "The Allison Cuba Award" for outstanding service to the Georgia Institute on Aging.